Community Bible Church has signed an 8,988-square-foot lease at Brooks City-Base.

Moving from another location near the base where it had been for several years, Community Bible Church chose a site at 3005 Sidney Brooks, Building 414, according to Russell Noll, managing director of Transwestern, which represented owner Brooks Development Authority.

"Brooks City-Base met all of their criteria for convenience, ambiance, growth potential, economics and more," Noll said in a release.
